HAMMOND NOT STUCK FOR RENT WHY "TWILIGHT" WAS DROPPED

TACT IS HE GETS BURDETT-COUTTS HOUSE FREE.

Our Special Coronation Ambassador Nails the Story That His Old Friend Had raxed Him 800,000 for a Month's or Weeks Residence in Piccadilly.

nce the news came out that John Havs Hammond was going to be special American Ambassador to the coronation of King George V. next June and it was rerted that Mr. Hammond had rented the dett-Coutts, at Piccadilly and Stratton Burdett-Coutts, M. P., some wild stories to America about the mormous rental to be paid by Mr. Hamor the use of the mansion during he four to six weeks he will occupy it. The price to be paid by Mr. Hammond.

pording to the reports, is $80,000. In actual rental of the house will not cost Mr. Hammond one cent. There hav be some slight alterations in the building, and of course there will be the servants, but these will cost at the outside alv a few thousand dollars. Mr. Hamnond is not renting the building at all. was tendered him by Mr. Burdettitts, who is a friend of long standing, is in no sense a renting arrangement. The St.

Nevin's Opera Prepared So Hurriedly I Couldn't Be Sung This Year.

Giulio Gatti-Casazza yesterday made the following formal explanation as to the withdrawal of "Twilight," the opera by Arthur Nevin and Randolph Hartley which had been accepted for production at the Metropolitan Opera House.

"The management of the Metropolitan Opera Company announces that the postponement until next season of the production of the opera 'Twilight,' by Arthur Nevin, has become necessary for two reasons: First, because in course of the rehearsals with the singers Mr. Nevin has deemed it advisable to introduce some changes in his score; and second, because the condition of the orchestral material, which had been prepared too hurriedly and consequently contained numerous errors, would have seriously hampered the progress of the orchestra rehearsals."

Few persons understood just why this American work was so hurriedly accepted and pitchforked into the répertoire toward the end of the season. It soon became evident, however, that there was going to be trouble. The three leading characters were entrusted to Riccardo Martin, Herbert Witherspoon and Johanna Gadski. After a few rehearsals the artists protested that they could not learn the music. It was through the persuasion of Mr. Gatti-Casazza that they were induced to persevere. Alred the rent of a house in London for six Hertz, the conductor, found it impossible to rehearse the orchestra from the scores to rehearse the orchestra from the scores provided.

If "Twilight" is sung next winter there will be two American operas produced, as the winner of the prize in the Metropolitan competition is also to be performed. Signor Caruso will again be out of the programme at the Metropolitan Opera House for another week. He expected to sing on Monday, but has decided that delay is advisable.

"The Bartered Bride" and the Russian ballet will make up the list for Monday. "Louise" will be repeated on Tuesday by the Philadelphia-Chicago company. "Parsifal" will be sung on the same night in the Brooklyn Academy of Music by the Metropolitan Opera Company, and "Faust" will be given on Wednesday at the Metropolitan Opera House by Geraldine Farrar and MM. Jadlowker and Rothier.

There will be a special matings.

Thursday with "Hänsel und Gretel" and the Russian dancers. In the evening "Die Meistersinger" will be sung by Mmes Gadski and Wickham and MM. Slézak, Soomer, Goritz and Reiss, "Orfeo," with the regular cast, followed by the Russian dancers, will be the bill on Friday, with "Lohengrin" at the Saturday matinée. Mme. Fremstad and M. Jadlowker will have the leading rôles. "Alda" will be sung on Saturday night by Mmes. Gadski and Claessens and MM. Martin, Amato and Didur.

Andreas Dippel announced yesterday

Mr. Hammond said he wanted to pay rent otherwise he would not feel comportable. "Bosh!" said Mr. Burdett-courts, "If you insist you can pay for whatever alterations you may wish to make and take over the servants," and that he was the person to make, and take over the servants, and that is the way the house to be occupied by the Special American Ambassador was a season draws to a close. HERR PODSZUS HERE TO MATE THE PURE WITH THE PURE.

Moved by American Supplication, He Comes From Berlin, Hires an Office and Sends for Assistants-Marrying Off German Castles His Specialty.

Herr Direktor Podszus is here, has rented offices and is only awaiting the arrival of two assistants from Berlin to begin business. So he told the interpreter at the Waldorf.

Perhaps one has not heard of Herr Direktor Podszus. Nevertheless he says he is known to princes, dukes, barons, all grades of Continental nobility, many of whom have been his clients. The other day a European nobleman chanced to pass near where Herr Podszus was standing.

"See there," said the Herr Direktor, pointing. "That man has been a client of ours in Berlin. They all come to us They know they can trust us, and we do a large business."

The "business" of Herr Podszus Rothier.

There will be a special matinée on Thursday with "Hänsel und Gretel" and before. Yet Herr Podszus says he has Yet Herr Podszus says he has taken offices in a building in that thoroughfare, somewhere in the 300s, though the interpreter does not know exactly what number, and he is confident of success. He says that in Berlin he conducts a Heirats Bureau, the largest of its kind over there. That in plain American is something like a marriage bureau. The Herr Direktor came over
